This book is a comprehensive collection of cases, statutes, regulations and readings focused on the commercial development of new technologies, primarily by start-up and early-stage companies. It defines the technology innovation process as the set of decisions and actions by which an invention is transformed from a laboratory prototype into a commercially viable product or process; and defines the technology innovation period as the time between the point of invention (reduction to practice) and the point of market introduction. Technology Innovation Law and Practice addresses the gap in academic attention paid to the field of technology innovation. The book provides students, faculty and practitioners, both in law and other disciplines, with a single source of in-depth information on the laws that affect the technology innovation process. The book is unique in its interdisciplinary focus, in its emphasis on start-up and early-stage technology companies, and in its combination of instructional and reference materials.

The first Canadian edition of ECON Macro is an innovative, hybrid-learning package that was created by the continuous feedback of our "student-tested, faculty-approved" process, unique to our 4ltr Press series. ECON Macro delivers comprehensive content in a visually appealing, succinct print component paired with a high-value online offering - MindTap - that includes an integrated eReader and a set of interactive digital tools that appeal to a wide range of learning styles and needs, all at a value-based price. This winning combination is proven to increase engagement and lead to better outcomes. The hallmark of this solution is the student-friendly approach taken by award-winning instructor and author Will McEachern. McEachern uses familiar examples and illustrations drawn from students' daily lives to vividly demonstrate that when students show up for class the first day, they each come with at least 17 years of first-hand experience in making economic choices and dealing with economic institutions and events, connecting these life experiences to key macroeconomic concepts.
