We went to the Sci-Bono exhibition to see the Body Works exhibition. It was amazing. Perhaps the exhibition was more impressive than the centre but having the centre there which one can use is great.

The sci bono discovery centre is def worth a visit. Esp with kids older than 6 years. Not recommended for kids younger than 6. It has lots interactive games and informative props. Our kids LCD the experience. The coffee shop can improve its selection. However we didn't go there to eat but rather to explore. Great experience. Will def go back.
